LOSES CASE IN THIRD HEARING

Albert Smiley Must Pay Court Costs and Still Suffer Loss of Horse.

SUIT IS TRIED HERE TWICE

The Complaint Alleges John Knecht's
Auto Frightened Valuable
Animal to Death.

It was a very expensive horse, belonging to Albert Smiley, a Fayette county farmer, who resides near Falmouth, that reared up and fell dead one day last fall, when John Knecht, a Washington township farmer, drove by in his automobile. Smiley alleged that fright at the auto caused the horse's death and immediately brought suit for damages in the Rush circuit court. After three trials it has been decided that the horse died a natural death and that the auto was not the cause.

That decision was returned in the Henry circuit court yesterday afternoon at three o'clock and now Mr. Smiley must pay court costs amounting to approximately three hundred dollars. After the attorneys fees are added to that the loss of the horse which Mr. Smiley valued at two hundred dollars, he will be out about six hundred dollars. In other words he lost four hundred dollars by going to court. He asked for two hundred dollar damages in the complaint.

The suit was first filed in the Rush circuit court last fall shortly after the accident. It was tried before a jury which disagreed. The jury stood seven to five for the defendant, most of the ballots which was conclusive enough that Smiley had failed to prove that Knecht and his auto were the cause of the horse's death.

In the next term of court a new trial was granted and was again tried before a jury. This time it seems that Smiley's evidence if anything, was even less convincing than it was in the first trial for the jury hung after balloting by a vote of eight to four in favor of the defendant several times.

When it was seen that the case could not be decided by a jury in the local court, the case was sent to the Henry court on a change of venue, where it was tried before Judge William Jackson. The case was started Monday morning at the opening of court and the evidence was not all in until yesterday at noon. The New Castle papers are the authority for the statement that Judge Jackson was not convinced from the evidence that Knecht's automobile was the cause of the accident when the evidence was concluded, but he listened to the argument of Smiley's attorneys and did not change his mind.

It is thought that the case will be ended after the three trials. McKee & Elliott, of Connersville, were attorneys for the plaintiff, while Samuel L. Trabue of this city represented John Knecht.

SENT TO FAYETTE.

The two cases against Fred Clevenger and Denny Ryan, each charged with visiting a gaming house, were sent to Fayette county this afternoon on a change of venue. The cases were to have come up for trial today but a motion for a change was filed early this morning.

DENIES MURDER RUMOR

Mrs. J. W. Noble Declares That Ben
Noble Did Not Kill His Wife.

In a letter written from Birney, Bartholomew county, to the editor of the Greensburg Democrat, Mrs. J. W. Noble denies all of the allegations that were made in a story which came from St. Paul recently. Mrs. Noble denies that Ben Noble ever killed his wife in Kentucky and that the convicted murderer was ever taken into the Odd Fellows lodge upon the recommendation of his employer, Albert Sprague whom he is alleged to have murdered. She declares that Charles Hagar, for whom Noble once worked, was responsible for him being taken into the lodge.

FINDS BIRD THAT IS VERY RARE

George Lucas Holds in Captivity
What he Believes to be a Virginia Rail.

HAS BEAUTIFUL PLUMMAGE

George Lucas of North Arthur street recently captured a bird that is a very unusual one for this State and he is at a loss to understand how it happened to be in this climate. The bird answers the description of a Virginia Rail and he is disposed to believe that it is of that strain. He caught it under the house one day recently and holds it a captive, tied to a tree in his back yard.

The Virginia Rail is not a flyer, but makes its way across the country by hopping and walking. It is common in Virginia and the Carolinas and for that reason it is not understood why it should be so far from home. The bird is becoming very tame, even though it was very wild when it was first caught. It has a beautiful plumage and in size and shape resembles a game cock very much. Mr. Lucas has been offered various sums of money but has refused to part with the unusual bird.

POLICE BOTHERED WITH MANY TRAMPS

Policeman McAllister Locked up Andrew Jackson, who Was Later Told to "Beat It."

HE RESENTED QUESTION

Policeman McAllister had the pleasure of arresting Andrew Jackson yesterday afternoon. Andrew Jackson was a celebrity of a different class from his noted namesake and was run in for begging. Andrew would have gotten by all right if it had not been for his tongue which he could not control. When questioned by the policeman, Andrew was quite rude and made several answers which were not up to the standard of the officer's code. When found he was making a house to house canvass and was several meals to the good. He was tried before Mayor Black last night and ordered to "beat it" from the city and from all reports made his get-away on a Big Four freight.

The police had no little complaint from tramps recently and intend to put a stop to all begging. As fast as the tramps are sighted they are ordered to take the side door sleeper route.

MRS. MARGISON VACATED HOUSE

Police Had Trouble in Making Her
Move From George Anderson's
Property in Seventh street.

MOVED EARLY THIS MORNING

Three People Live in One Room and it is Said the Place Was Fierce.

Mrs. David Margison and children, who for the past three months have lived in the one room house of George Anderson in East Seventh street were forced to move because she owed George $7.50 rent and vacated early this morning. Mrs. Margison has been in destitute circumstances for some time and only recently five of her children were placed in a home. Despite the efforts of a number of charity workers to aid her, she seems not to care and according to the officers will not make an effort to help herself.

The house where they lived was kept in a deplorable state and would have done justice to the slums of any large city. They slept, eat and cooked in the one room and the police say that the odor from the place was sickening. The furniture was more in the nature of junk and the neighbors say she made no effort to better conditions.

George Anderson, the owner of the shack brought suit in the squire's court for possession and Mrs. Margison was given five days to get out. At the expiration of that time she had not moved and as a final warning police threatened to set what little furniture there was out in the street if she did not move out by this morning. The officers were almost haunted by George, who is out $7.50 house rent and the costs of the case. He camped on their trail for days and demanded possession of his shack. This morning when they went to the house she had moved and all that was left was a pile of straw in the center of the room that had been used as bedding.

The police say that the condition of the woman and house were almost indescribable. Her two boys, it is said, are as bad as she is and seem to enjoy living that way.

It will be remembered that David Margison died last winter at the county poor farm after being brushed by a traction car and since that time Mrs. Margison has lived in numerous places in this city. It is said she has gone to make her home with some friends in the west part of the city.

NEW PASTOR IS INSTALLED

The Rev. T. H. Graham takes Charge of Knightstown Pulpit.

The installation of the Rev. T. H. Graham, the new Presbyterian pastor, occurred in Knightstown Tuesday evening, and a number of ministers from surrounding cities were in attendance. Miss Esther Cook of the Knightstown Friends church, read the lesson, and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Thomas Graham of Richmond. The charge to the pastor was given by Rev. Todd of Lewisville, and the charge to the people by the Rev. Maguire of New Castle. The Rev. Mr. Stephenson of Brookville, was the moderator.

Mrs. Chas. VanCamp, wife of the soloist at the Portola theater, arrived today from her home at New Castle.

TRACTION MEN COME FRIDAY

Railroad Commission And General
Managers Will View Demonstration of New Block System.

TO STOP AT THE JUNCTION

Believed That Officials Will Approve of Method After Practical Test--Has Been Success.

It will be a notable gathering of men who will assemble here tomorrow afternoon to view the demonstration of a new dispatchers' block system which has been installed here, when traction line general managers from all over the State, together with members of the State railroad commission, arrive over a special I & C. car. They will leave Indianapolis at one o'clock. A stop will be made at the junction where the party will view the selector which has been installed in the dispatcher's office.

The new telephone and signal apparatus is manufactured by the United State Electric Company. It has not been installed any place in the middle west and it is said that it has proved highly successful wherever it has been used.

Since the last Legislature passed an act requiring interurban railroads to install an automatic block system or some other system approved by the Railroad Commission by Jan. 1, 1912, unless an extension in time is given by the Railroad Commission, several of the roads have installed different block systems to give them a practical test.

The system installed on this division, in the opinion of President Henry, meets all of the requirements of the new law. He believes it will prove satisfactory in its workings and in the event the Railroad Commission makes a favorable recommendation, the system will be installed on this and Greensburg divisions of the road at once.

The party tomorrow will probably include the following:

Chairman W. J. Wood, Judge McClure and Frank E. Payne of the Railroad Commission of Indiana; M. H. Hovey, Robert I. Todd, Will Irwin, president of the I. C. & S.; Alexander Shayne, general manager of the I. C. & S.; E. B. Peck, vice president of the T. H. I. & E.; C. N. Wilcox, H. A. Nicholl, general manager of the I. U. T.; A. W. Brady, president of the I. U. T.; G. K. Jeffries, general superintendent of the T. H. I. & E.; O. P. Spillman, F. H. Warner, A. G. Boardman, division superintendents of the T. H. I. & E. and others.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD BOY DIES

Russell Horton Succumbs of Pneumonia at Home in Carthage.

Russell, the 12-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Horton of Carthage died yesterday morning at 3:10 after an illness of two weeks. His ailment was at first thought to be rheumatism but later developments proved it to be pneumonia. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Whitley. He will be assisted by the Rev. C. N. Wilson. Burial in Riverside cemetery.

The jury in the case of Warrum against Fairbanks and the Southern Indiana Gas Company, which was started in the circuit court yesterday morning, has been out since ten o'clock this morning and had not returned a verdict late this afternoon.

APPEAL TO CIRCUIT COURT

Attorneys File Transcript in Perkins Street Pavement Case.

Attorneys filed the transcript for an appeal to the circuit court from the commissioners court of the C. H. Alger et al. petition for the improvement of Perkins street with brick under the three-mile gravel road law in the clerk's office late this afternoon. The petitioners are appealing on the theory that sixty-seven petitioners had no right to withdraw their names after the petition had been filed with the auditor. Meggie & Kiplinger and Sexton & McColgin are the attorneys.

POSEY TOWNSHIP WANTS NEW ROAD

Petition With Eighty-Five Signers,
Exhibited in Matter of John
Jordan et al. is Filed.

ENDS IN ARLINGTON STREET

Still another petition for a new highway in Rush county has been filed in the county auditor's office in the court house. This time it is one from Posey township and is entitled in the matter of the petition of John Jordan et al. There are eighty-five signers all of which are supposed to be free holders. The road which the petitioners would have improved begins at a point on the line dividing Walker and Posey townships and runs north one and one-half miles to the Indianapolis pike which point of intersection with the pike is at Main street in the town of Arlington. The petitioners allege that the road is of public utility and that a rural route passes over two miles of the road. They declare that the road is less than three miles in length and that it connects a township line with a free gravel road. They ask for improvement with gravel only.

The petition will probably not be considered by the commissioners before the first meeting in June. On next Monday the commissioners will meet to consider three road petitions which were filed last month and which are a part of the twelve that were asked for recently.

Mrs. Riggsbee is survived by the son with whom she lived, one daughter, Mrs. John Swain of near Gwynneville and several grandchildren and great grandchildren. "MOTHERS DAY" TO BE OBSERVED

Churches and Schools Will Celebrate
Event With Appropriate
Exercises Here.

WHITE CARNATION IS EMBLEM

It is Common Practice to Send Mothers
Flowers on Day
Set Aside.

It behooves every person who has a mother to remember that next Sunday is the day set aside for the celebration of "Mothers Day." The remembrance of the day has become an annual event and it is coming to be more generally recognized all over the United States each year. The day will be more appropriately observed in Rushville and Rush county this year than ever before.

White carnation is the emblem of the day. They are fitting emblems since they signify purity and chastity. White carnations will be worn by most everyone and they will be used in all of the decorations at the churches. The practice has been common in past years for most sons and daughters to send their mothers a bunch of carnations on the morning of the day.

The Rev. John B. Meacham has announced that he will observe "Mothers Day" at the First Presbyterian church next Sunday. A sermon to mothers will be delivered at one of the services. None of the other churches in the city have made such an announcement as yet.

The day will be celebrated at the Manilla Christian church. A special program has been prepared and a request has been made that everyone who attends the services wear a white carnation. Prof. F. E. Tuckress of Brownsburg will assist in the services.

"Mothers Day" will be observed at the New Salem M. E. church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, when the Rev. Clyde S. Black of Glenwood will preach a special sermon, paying a tribute to all mothers. A special musical program has been announced.

Charles A. Greathouse, State superintendent of Public instruction, has set aside tomorrow as the time to observe "Mothers Day" in the public schools and the school officials here will act accordingly. J. T. Arbuckle, a member of the school board will speak to the high school in the morning. Exercises have been arranged for the Jackson school and Prof. J. H. Scholl will make the principal address in the afternoon. The Rev. J. B. Meacham will speak to the pupils at the Havens school at ten o'clock in the morning.

M'BRIDE CASE IS SETTLED

Suit of Local Interest is Taken Out of Court by Agreement.

The case of Rella Souders of Knightstown against William P. McBride of Knightstown and Sam J. McBride of Columbus for the partition of real estate, which was settled in the Henry circuit court this week by agreement, is of local interest as much of the real estate involved is in this county. It included a farm of two hundred acres in this county and a piece of property in Knightstown, their total value being about $25,000. The plaintiff is the widow of Sam S. McBride, deceased, who formerly lived on the farm in this county with her first husband.

Rush County Is Still On the Horseman Map

Review of Business Here Shows That Even Greater Activity in the Enterprise for Which the County Has Long Been Famous, is in Evidence

The following is the remainder of the article which appeared in the Western Horseman last week, which has to do with the fast horse business in Rush county that has been thriving this spring.

Curt Gosnell completed his move to Rushville last week, and will begin active operations as soon as the weather will permit, he took with him the following record horses, and green ones: Bessie Cook, 2:10 1/4; Harry K. Thaw, 2:11 1/4; Rosabelle, 2:13 1/4; Sylvia J., 2:14 1/4; Wood-cliff King, 2:16 1/4; Deboe Hal, 2:16 1/4; Mary B., 2:17 1/4; Celia W.,

2:19 1/4, and the following green prospects: Rambling Dan, a green pacer with a trial in 2:13; Jim B., a trotter by Anderson Wilkes, with a trial in 2:15; the good trotter Allation, with a trial in 2:09 1/2; Dan J., trotter, by Anderson Wilkes, that has been a mile in 2:20, and a four-year-old trotter that Curt calls Biliken that has shown a mile in 2:25.

Horrie Brooks, located for several years past at Alliance, Neb., is here with ten head, two of which are the record horses, Dan Brown, 2:17 1/4, and John D., 2:19 1/4; then he has two five-year-olds, one a pacer by Hal Clipper, out of Tinnie Moore, 2:29 1/4; the other a trotter by Anderson Wilkes, dam by Arrowood. A right good three-year-old in the string is by Simmore, dam by Baron Posey. The stallion The Gambetta by Gambetta Wilkes, out of a mare by Mambrino Startle, he is also getting ready to race some this season. He is also breaking four three-year-olds, two trotters and two pacers by Radium A., 2:17 1/4, for parties in Augusta, Ga., these were recently purchased and will be shipped South later in the season.

Clell Maple on account of his duties as county recorder, has not had much time to devote to training, but is looking after Dale Axworthy that he has in the stud for the season and training three prospects, the five-year-old trotter Nancy Young by The Patchen Boy dam by Raven Wilkes, this mare was a mile for him last year in 2:23 and a quarter in 33 seconds; a two-year-old filly by The Patchen Boy out of The Lady From Rushville by Raven Wilkes and four-year-old green pacer by Harlow that is showing considerable speed.

Frank Lindsay, has seven in his stable, Lady J., 2:17, being the only record performer among them. James W., a green trotter gelding by Simmore out of a mare by Director Chief that was a mile in 2:23, last half 1:08 1/2, and last quarter in 33 seconds looks to be a great prospect, he is an exceptionally handsome horse of show horse quality. Princess Patchen, a four-year-old pacing filly by The Patchen Boy out of a Gambrel mare also looks promising, she was a mile last year in her three-year-old form in 2:22, last quarter in 32 seconds, he also has a three-year-old trotting filly by Simmore, out of a George W. Lederer mare, that showed him quarters last year in 36 1/4 seconds. His others are some two-year-old trotters and pacers by Allertell, 2:18 1/4, that are quite classy youngsters.

Clyde Nebro has just moved to the track with seven head, the pacer Martin Kelley that was only once behind the money out of six starts last year, his others are three four-year-olds, all green ones, a trotter by Sidney Dillon, out of the dam of Czarina Dawson, 2:09 1/4, she was a mile in 2:18 and a half in 1:04 1/4 last year as a three-year-old; another is a three-year-old pacing colt by Crescent Route, 2:08 3/4, dam by Anteros, that paced a mile last year in 2:24, a half in 1:08 1/4, and a quarter in 34 seconds; the third of the four-year-old is a filly by The Patchen Boy, dam by Glenwood Prince, that was a mile in 2:24, a half in 1:10 and a quarter in 33 seconds last fall. He has also a three-year-old colt by Silkweaver, 2:19 1/2, out of a Raven Wilkes mare, and a two-year-old gelding by Charley Hayt, 2:06 1/4, out of Daisy K., 2:21 1/4, that he is giving their first lessons in speed and a right good trotting yearling by Hedgewood Boy.

Jones has about as good a looking four-year-old stud colt by Crescent Route, 2:08 3/4, out of Laura Jones, 2:13 1/4, as one could find in any stable in the country, a full made 16-hand horse, that showed him a mile last year in 2:20 at the trot, and ought to be one of the good green trotters out this year. He is also working five two and three-year-olds by Silk Weaver, all good fashioned, rugged colts with size and of splendid conformation.

L. J. Geraghty, the village blacksmith, has a good green four-year-old by Western Horseman, dam by Brussels, that showed halves around 1:12 and 1:13 last year.

Out at the half-mile track is located Scott Brannum, with seventeen head, all green with the exception of the trotter Martin, 2:21 1/4. Scott is a "King Bee" at making speed and has his colts stepping some already. His green ones are a five-year-old pacer by Harlow, dam by a son of Reward J., that was a mile last year in 2:23, a half in 1:09, and a quarter in 33 seconds; a four-year-old trotter by Simmore, dam by Elgin Boy, that he is just breaking; a three-year-old pacing colt by Bond Patch by the Patchen Boy, dam of Mulatto, that has shown him recently an eighth in 17 seconds; a three-year-old filly by Allation, dam by The Patchen Boy, that could step halves last year around 1:20, and a three-year-old colt by Allertell, dam by Red Wilkes, that is now showing 3:00 speed. Then he has five two year-olds, three trotters and two pacers, one of the trotters by Charley Hayt and two by Allation. The two pacers are by The Patchen Boy, one a particularly good one out of Nettie Posey by Baron Posey.

There has not been any better weather at Rushville than at other training points, but the trainers have been busy legging them up and when the weather does settle it will be one of the busiest training grounds in the country.

The mile track will be worked with an automobile this year and kept well sprinkled, ensuring a good track whenever there is the least opportunity to use it.

GOVERNOR ASKS ABOUT OUTRAGE

Wants Monroe County Whitecapping Investigated.

FORMER PROMISES BROKEN

At the Last Trial of Whitecaps in That Region the Defendants Were Let Go on Promise That Whitecapping Should Cease—Present Case May Serve to Revive Suspended Sentences in That Case.

Indianapolis, May 11.—Governor Marshall has written to James G. Browning, sheriff of Monroe county, for full particulars concerning the recent whitecap outrage in that county, and for a statement in full of what steps are being taken to arrest and punish the whitecaps. No appeal has been made to the governor for aid by any person in the county, but the governor said the peculiar conditions of the case made it necessary for the governor's office to take notice of the outrages.

In the trial of two whitecaps at Columbus, following an outrage several months ago, the state consented to a suspension of sentence on the whitecaps, who pleaded guilty, but the consent of the state was given on the promise of attorneys for the defendants that whitecapping should cease. Whether the recent outbreak will affect the liberty of the whitecaps released under suspended sentence remains to be seen. As far as the authorities know, they were not in any way connected with the recent outbreak.

MANY CHILDREN MISSED

Parents Feared Child Labor Act and Failed to Tell Enumerators.

South Bend, Ind., May 11.—Men in charge of the school enumeration here have just found that nearly 700 children were missed because of a misunderstanding of the new child labor law. This measure has caused considerable confusion here, because of the large number of boys and girls employed in the factories. It is presumed the people refused to give their children's names to the school enumerators in order to evade the child labor act. The condition came to light in the checking up of the returns, and a recount may be made.

Hanged Himself by Suspenders.

Wabash, Ind., May 11.—Eugene Clauve, aged forty-five, unmarried, was found dead in his room. His suspenders were taken from his trousers and a noose made in one end. The other end was made fast to the head of the bed. When found his head was less than two feet from the floor and death was due to strangulation.

Held on Serious Charge.

Washington, Ind., May 11.—Hugh McKernan, jr., youngest son of Hugh F. McKernan, a wealthy lumber dealer, was arrested on a warrant charging him with having assaulted Edna Brumett, a sixteen-year-old school girl, who is under the care of a physician. McKernan was released under $1,000 bond.

South Bend, Ind., May 11.—The annual encampment in 1912 of the Indiana G. A. R. probably will be held in South Bend. The chamber of commerce will send an invitation to the encampment, which will be held next week in Richmond.

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

EIGHT YEARS IN PRISON

The Punishment of Afghan Who Shot Indiana Young Woman at Jerusalem.

Washington, May 11.—Hahib Allah, an Afghan, who shot and wounded two American women at Jerusalem last year has been sentenced to eight years in prison. Miss Natalie Morris of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Miss Agnes Parker Moore of Terre Haute, Ind., members of a large party of American tourists, were visiting the mosque of Omar at Jerusalem on March 9, 1910, when they were fired on by the Afghan and wounded, one of them losing an eye. He was at once arrested and held for trial, but various delays have occurred. The state department has just received a dispatch from the American consul at Jerusalem saying the trial was concluded and the men sentenced.

Cascarets Splendid For Elderly Folks

The Rule For Old People is—One Cascaret Daily. The Bowels, Like Other Muscles, Grow Less Active With Age—They Need Help.

Most old people give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. And most of them need them daily. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at sixty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. And there is no matter of choice here. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box.

MOSQUE OF OMAR

Beneath Which Important Relics Have Been Found.

London, May 11.—Captain Montagu Parker, who headed the party of English explorers who have been said to have removed sacred relics from the mosque of Omar and who is back in London, announces that the party found the first Jebusite remains ever excavated in Jerusalem. Bodies of Jebusites were found on shelves in caves, and it is thought that the bodies were interred before David took Jerusalem, probably 3,000 years before Christ. There is pottery of the same date, showing that the Jebusites had a civilization equal to that of the Israelites 2,000 years later.

LABOR SLUGGERS ARE ATTACKING OLD MEN

Brutal Incidents of Machinists' Strike.

Chicago, May 11.—Labor sluggers are resting on their arms while their bruised and wounded victims nurse their injuries. The headquarters of the elevator constructors' union look like the accident ward in a hospital. Three men, upward of sixty years old, met in the headquarters at the same time, each one with his head bandaged as a result of the attacks of the sluggers. The old men, victims of the "wrecking crew," are Gilbert Olsen, sixty-two years old; Fred Smith, sixty, and John McDermott, sixty-two years old. All are old members of the elevator constructors' union, and all were beaten by machinists' pickets the first day they returned to work for the Otis Elevator company.

Now the students are rioting in Mexico. The liberal culture of our colleges is acquiring an international influence.

Wheat speculators have lost $2,000,000, and this sort of thing will keep on as long as the banks would rather lend money for the gambling than farming.

Solomon's crown is said to have been found by archaeologists. Perhaps King George could buy it cheap at second hand, instead of having to invest in a new one.

Seventeen Baltimore students have offered to be subjects to test a cancer cure, while most of us cross the street to avoid a friend who has recently had the measles.

If Albert J. Smiley had remained out of the court with his suit he would have not been loser more than one perfectly good horse. As it is he will be compelled to pay costs, amounting to something like $450. Often it does not pay to appeal to the law for justice.

Seventy-five thousand Americans are said to be in peril in Mexico. If they confine their remarks to the weather and the crops and quit talking politics, they'll be all right.

Wellesley students are opposing the reception of Mr. Rockefeller's money. Although it would be worth several square meals to write him a sassy letter, $150,000 seems a high price to pay for the privilege.

Radcliffe college students are objecting to the rules for simple graduation dress. They might reflect on how formidable an elaborately dressed girl looks to the fellow who wants to get married, but dassent.

"The world doesn't need reformers," Governor Marshall told a Chicago audience. Coming from a statesman who reformed the constitution of Indiana in the length of time it takes to walk from the State capitol to the Claypool hotel, this is something of an admission.

The Richmond Item says: "There is no question but that the Republican party stands in great need of harmony, but there is a right and a wrong way to go about securing it." The way for the Republican party to get harmony is to don Bill Dudley Foulke's harem skirt, and no otherwise.

Speaking before the county health commissioners from all parts of the State, now gathered in Indianapolis, Gov. Marshall says that the old-fashioned doctors are good enough for him. Do you suppose the new-fangled kind will take this to heart?

If Rushville people only knew it, there are probably lots of places in the city limits that would do justice to the slums of a great city. In most cases it is found that the people are not deserving of charity. There is an organization in this city that allows few deserving poor people to go unnoticed. They are to be commended.

The jug handled features of the Proctor law are again illustrated, and appropriately in Whitley county, says the Marion Chronicle. Washington township in that county, was "dry" under the operations of the county local option law. A township election held under the Proctor law resulted in a tie. The commissioners refused to grant another election and granted a liquor license. The fairness with which the anti-saloon forces are treated by a "wet" board of commissioners may well be noted for the benefit of those local satellites of the brewery machinery who call the Grant county commissioners "anarchists" for exhausting the legal right of resistance to the foisting of saloons upon Grant county as given to them by the brewery-made Proctor law.

The Ark of the Jewish covenant, the seven branched candle stick and the tables of the Jewish law, according to a newspaper story, have been stolen from the Mohammedan Mosque of Omar and are now on a yacht bound for Great Britain.

It is one of the tragedies of the Christian religion, that all the physical vestiges of its sacred shrines should have fallen into the hands of a heathen faith.

The Crusaders of the Dark Ages made a good try for the recovery of this treasure. It was needed at that time when the externals that appealed to the eye were more necessary than they are today.

Even if many of the old Jewish and Christian antiquities could be recovered, there is no way of determining if they are genuine. The fragments of the true cross that are carefully preserved and venerated would make a big wood pile.

We have not the least doubt that many of the so-called sacred relics are genuine, since it has been the custom of mankind in all ages to preserve such mementoes.

But never again will any human being be able to distinguish the true from the false, and future generations must depend on producing the fruits of religion, not on its external husks.

EDITORIALETTES.

A little rain now and then—makes good rain water.

We swatted the second fly of the season this morning. We had to give him a fierce race, but we taught him that all of his brothers will meet the same fate if they enter the editorial sanctum. After a postmortem we found that he was three summers old and had three deaths registered to his credit.

"An eye for an eye and a tooth for a —." Let's see how does that go?

New Castle has been looking forward to that circus for weeks and then the sad disappointment—it was rotten.

We note that strawberries are cheaper, but that greens are still holding the same high figure on the market.

We would like to call special attention to the brand of weather which this column has been furnishing its readers. You may remember that we have predicted a pleasant May at all times.

That puts us in the "I told you so class."

MAY DAY IS TO BE CELEBRATED

Five Hundred Students of Earlham College Prepare to Present Monster Pageant Tomorrow.

TO SERVE AS "HOME COMING"

Former Students and Alumni of Institution Are Expected to Gather For Event.

Everything is practically ready for the big celebration of May Day, Friday, May 12, at Earlham College. Rehearsals and drills have been repeated day after day until the 300 students who will participate, are ready and waiting.

The May Day celebrations at Earlham were started in 1876 and have continued ever since at irregular intervals of from two to five years. The coming celebration will, however, be the most important and impressive of all, and will serve as a "home coming" for former students, graduates and friends of the college.

A splendid program has been prepared, beginning with a pageant at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. This pageant will wind through the fine forty-acre campus and will halt in front of historic old Earlham Hall, where the Queen of the May, Miss Catherine Hartman, will be crowned. Then will follow the winding of the May poles and the revels of the Morris dancers.

Immediately afterwards the May day revelers will separate, half going to the east quadrangle, and half to the west quadrangle, where special performances of "Pyrams and Thisbe," "St. George and the Dragon" and other drills and burlesques.

The program will be given twice at each quadrangle, so that the audience may change from one to another, thus seeing both.

In the evening, in Lindley Hall Auditorium Ben Johnson's "Masque of Queens" and Paul Bliss cantata "A Midsummer Night" will be given twenty-five students taking part in each.

It is the intention to give the festivities a genuine old English flavor, with costumes of the time as well as characters. The campus will abound in chimney sweeps, fiddlers, Jack-in-the-green, rustics, quack doctors, jesters, hobby horses, shepherdesses, gypsies, fortune tellers, bakers, peddlers and beggars.

The celebration of May Day is purely a student movement and it is believed from 4,000 to 5,000 people will attend. An admission of $1 is being charged, and friends of the college are being asked to buy tickets whether they can come or not, the money raised to be applied as a student fund toward the payment of a college debt.

TWELVE TO GRADUATE.

The Rev. C. D. Wilson of Lawrenceburg will deliver the Morristown high school commencement address Thursday night. The graduates will be Elizabeth Barnes, Virgil Duncan, Faith Lane, Otis Miller, Frances Moss, Brainard Nelson, Maude Pitts, Ruth Rigdon, Lucile Robbins, Orville Shaw, Lester Spurrier and Amy Stirling.

HENRY COUNTY GAINS.

New Castle Courier: The enumeration of the persons of a school age in the county shows a gain of 162 over that of last year, according to the figures given out from the office of County Superintendent Harry B. Roberts. The report shows a total of 7,025 school children in the county as against 6,863 in 1910.

RETURNS HOME.

C. G. Clark returned home last evening from an extended visit in Roswell, N. M., much improved in health. Mr. Clark has on display at his mill some of the alfalfa grown in New Mexico. The members of the Rush county colony, he says, are all healthy and well satisfied.

GOT HIS START IN NEW CASTLE

Robert Mansfield, "The Yankee Consul," is spending a Few Days With Old Friends.

TOWN CLERK AND REPORTER

R. E. Mansfield, American consul at Zurich, Switzerland, was in the city Wednesday calling on old friends and marveling at the wonderful growth and changes in New Castle since his last visit, two and a half years ago, says the New Castle Courier. Mr. Mansfield, who got his start as a reporter on the Courier over twenty years ago and is a former town clerk of New Castle, is in the United States on leave of absence from the State department and, with Mrs. Mansfield is spending a few weeks with her parents, Hon. John K. Gowdy and wife at Rushville. His visit here was on business and he will return later for a more extended stay.

Mr. Mansfield, who was formerly American consul to Zanzibar and later represented Uncle Sam at Valparaiso, Chile, has risen steadily in the diplomatic service and is now rated as a stand-by in the corps.

SAYS SHE BOUGHT HUSBAND'S SUIT

Mrs. Sarah E. Hungerford Testifies That She Did All the Buying And Gets Divorce.

MUST PAY THE COSTS FIRST

Judge Blair this afternoon granted a divorce upon payment of the costs to Mrs. Sarah E. Hungerford from her husband, Melvin Hungerford, both of Milroy, but recently of Orange township. Mrs. Hungerford testified that she bought her husband's tobacco, fed him and even bought his clothes for him. She pointed to him and said that the suit that he wore then she paid ten dollars for in Indianapolis. She declared that she kept boarders in Milroy, worked in a Shelbyville hotel and did numerous things to make the living.

The case of Sarah E. Hungerford against Melvin and Thomas Hungerford, their son, for the possession of real estate is an outgrowth of the domestic troubles. Mrs. Hungerford says that she owns 47 acres of land in Orange township, which her son is occupying.

Cheap Farms in the United States

Many people are seeking cheap lands in Canada, moving from high-priced farms in the "corn belt" to what they believe to be an ideal agricultural country.

If these same people would stop to investigate, they would find improved land just as CHEAP, BETTER in every respect and in a settled country, where the climate, shipping facilities, etc., are far superior to that of Canada. To say nothing of the fact that we as a people should settle and improve our own lands before seeking those in a foreign country.

The best improved farms in the heart of the "corn belt" of Minnesota can be obtained for from $40 to $60 per acre, farms with BETTER soil and just as good improvements as the best farms in Rush County, and with a climate that is far better.

Unimproved farms can be bought at from $5 and up, according to location.

Information concerning improved and unimproved farms in Minnesota can be obtained from SMITH & HILTON, 1997 Montreal Ave., Saint Paul, Minn. This information comes through the State Immigration Office and can be relied upon as being strictly impartial.

The Palace will show a wonderful drama tonight in the Selig film entitled "1861." The picture is complete in every detail and has a blending of love and strife which adds to the interest. The other picture is said to be a fine comedy. It is a Kalem film, "The Phoney Prince." The man passing as the prince gets into many difficulties and funny situations arise. Miss Blanche Wrennie will sing "San Francisco Bay."

The Vaudet continues to attract large crowds each night with their three reels of pictures. "The Indian's Test," a Bison film, is a pretty romance of Indian life. The Nestor "The Law and the Man," is a drama based on a string of startling events in the career of a man. The last picture tonight is a Yankee film, "In Sunny Italy." The picture has for its background, picturesque Italy and with the fine acting makes a most complete film. This picture is of a very recent release and is said to be out of the ordinary.

The first film to be shown at the Star Grand tonight is a Bison western drama entitled "The Deputy's Honor." In this picture are shown two brothers, Tom and Pete, who live with their widowed mother. Tom is appointed deputy sheriff and is proud of the responsibility reposed in him. Pete is in love with a wealthy rancher's daughter and his suit is frowned upon by the father owing to his poverty. To secure money he holds up a stage coach. Tom discovers his brother is guilty and arrests him but yields to the pleadings of his mother and permits Pete to escape. Overcome at his breach of trust, Tom steps into an adjoining room and shoots himself. Pete hearing the shot, returns, and stricken with remorse fulfills his brother's trust by confessing and surrendering himself to the sheriff. The second film is an American comedy-drama entitled "Strategy" a film that tells a tragic story abounding in thrills, but ending in a hearty laugh. Earl Robertson will sing "O'Callahan."

CAVE-IN BURIES AGED LABORER

Knightstown Workman is Caught in Sewer Trench and Narrowly Escapes Injury.

WAS COVERED BY EARTH

Two Comrades Save His Life by Digging Him Out—Under Earth a Minute.

Few men have the experience of being buried under a ton of earth and living to tell the tale, but such is the distinction that comes to John Wright, aged 65 years of Knightstown. And Mr. Wright enjoys this distinction owing to the fact that he is a man of strength despite his advanced years.

With other men, Mr. Wright was working in a sewer trench when the banks caved in and he was completely covered. With a superhuman effort he attempted to force his way upward through the earth that had fallen upon him, and was able to break the heavy weight that held him down and reach fresh air again after being buried completely a full minute.

Two other men who were working in the trench eight feet deep, saw the cave-in and hurried to the assistance of Mr. Wright. And to this act they owe their own lives, as they had not been out of the trench half a minute until both banks caved in, and had they been in the ditch they would have been crushed or buried so deep that they would have been smothered to death before being extricated, as there was no assistance in close proximity except Mr. Wright. The narrow escape of the three men was sufficient to cause them to be frightened, unnerved them, and they declined to continue their work that day.

CHAPTER XXII.

HE led him back into the other wing of the house, and he frowned as he noted that the room into which he was shown adjoined the suit Lillian occupied. Inside the room he examined the communicating door. There was no key in it; but, stooping down to inspect the bolt, he could see that it was locked, and, with a nod of satisfaction, he made haste to get to rest. He had scarcely begun to undress, however, when the communicating door opened, and Lillian, clad in the same kimono in which she had before entered his private apartments at the Esplanade in New York, came in, laughing as if her act were but a childish prank.

"Have you no discretion whatever?" Kelvin demanded, with some impatience.

"Not much," she answered gayly. "What is the use of it in a poky, hum-drum place like this, where everybody is deaf, dumb and blind? Come, I want to show you something."

"I'll look at it in the morning," returned Kelvin.

"In the morning won't do," she insisted. "It will be too late then."

She insisted so strongly that Kelvin finally went with her into her own apartments. She went to her desk and brought a letter.

"See," she said, "I have found a note written by George Blagg to Ben White, the father of your precious friend Elsie while he was still gardener. Blagg has been contracting for a million rifles, for one thing." As she spoke she seemed to be listening intently. Phillip reached out his hand for the missive. She thrust it quickly behind her back and looked up at him with bantering eyes. "Is that the way you express your thanks?" she playfully protested. "You shan't have it until you show yourself more grateful than that." And she pursed up her lips.

With something of reluctance Phillip bent forward to give her the stipulated kiss, and as he did so she suddenly threw her arms about his neck. At that instant the hall door opened wide at the hand of Lucy, and Henry Breed stalked in, followed by Dr. Zephan and Herbert Rensselaer and his aunt. Phillip and Lillian instantly sprang apart, but it was too late. The tableau had been seen. Henry Breed was the first to find his voice.

"Lucy told us that Lillian wished to see us in her room and led the way," he observed dryly, "but Lucy seems to have been mistaken."

"She was," asserted Lillian coolly. "But since you are here I may as well tell you a bit of news, grandfather. You may announce tomorrow that the long standing secret engagement between Phillip and myself is to culminate in an immediate wedding. We were just discussing the date. I think about the first of next month will suit us best, won't it, Phillip?" and her hand sought his.

Phillip, half confused, half angry, put as good a face upon the matter as he could and agreed, with every appearance of suavity, that the first was an ideal date. Having announced their intention, the surprised couple were able to look their captors in the face with more or less of cool defiance. In Herbert's eyes Kelvin saw grave remonstrance. Dr. Zephan was openly chuckling. Henry Breed was smiling and rubbing his withered old palms together. The shocked and horrified Mrs. Rensselaer finally found her motive power and, sailing into the room, took Lillian's arm under her own and marched away with her to her own

A Marvel For Sore Feet. Acts Right Off.

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, itchy feet, smelly feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

apartments. Dr. Zephan was the first to congratulate Phillip, shaking hands with him heartily.

"It is a wonderful match," said he with sardonic glee, "an ideal match."

Henry Breed delightedly patted Kelvin on the shoulder and called him son, and it never seemed to cross his mind that there had been anything in the circumstances to incur his disapproval, if not his anger. Rensselaer lingered long enough to protest.

"THE SECRET ENGAGEMENT IS TO CULMINATE IN AN IMMEDIATE WEDDING."

"I say, old man," said he, "you might have been fair enough to give a fellow a correct tip when I asked you in the first place. You've let me make an ass of myself. I finally gave in to the aunt and proposed to Miss Breed not long ago. I—I wish you happiness."

Kelvin looked enigmatically into Rensselaer's eyes, abruptly laughed aloud and then, wheeling, turned into his own room.

Stalwart soldiers surrounded the White House grounds in lines two deep. From the gates to the main entrance the way was lined upon both sides with bronzed, gray bearded non-descripts, who stood slouchily in their olive green khaki and who had nothing of the bearing of soldiers in their attitude. They were a strange lot, full 500 of them, and yet any one disposed to laugh at the awkward line had only to look into the stern succession of merciless eyes to know that there was dogged fighting blood. Already throughout the length and breadth of the land there had been sufficient clashes to set citizen against soldier and soldier against citizen, and recruits that but the day before yesterday had spat at a uniform and yesterday had been driven by necessity into the employ of the army today found themselves arrayed against their former comrades and spat at the plain citizenry.

Within the White House there were throngs of those who deemed that they had a right to inquire, to argue, to protest, to denounce. Day after day Kelvin, sitting in calm pomp with his two huge, gaudily liveried negroes behind him, enigmatically disposed of one agitated patriot after another.

Just now Kelvin was entertaining a delegation picked by himself. They were his cabinet officers, and they were pale and nervous to a man. Added to them were two strangely out of place groups, the one consisting of Henry and Lillian Breed, Jens Nelson and Dr. Zephan and the other of Rollins and Elsie White. All of these had been admitted by a private door. The arrival of the latter two groups was disconcerting to Phillip at the moment, although, after a slight period of cogitation, he had ordered them both admitted. Rollins and Elsie White came last, and the moment they had entered Phillip ordered the door to be relocked. He had been upon the point of making an important announcement to his waiting and apparently prepared cabinet, and now, his small audience once more quiet, he raised his hand impressively, but before he could speak Elsie White hurried forward to him.

"Look in your desk quickly, but carefully," she cried. "An infernal machine is concealed there, timed to explode at twelve!"

She was deathly pale. There were dark rings under her eyes. Evidently she had passed a sleepless night. Phillip, obeying his habit of mentally ignoring sudden and agitated thoughts that he might consider them in forced calmness, looked down upon her compassionately, and the moment for which Elsie had waited all these years had at last arrived. Today she stood nearer to him in affection than any other living creature. Love had come to him at last. Well, there was still time. He had fought and he had won. The moment of his triumph was at hand, and with the fruits of that triumph he would crown love. He glanced at the clock. It was then barely 10. Jens Nelson had started hastily toward the door, but now he returned to the side of Dr. Zephan.

"According to that, we have plenty of time," Phillip said calmly.

"Look!" Elsie frantically insisted. "The machine might be faulty. It was timed for 12 because it is known that you never leave until 1, but there is danger this very second. Every act of your daily routine has been studied, and in a half dozen places these things lie in wait for you. Here is a list of them." And she gave him a paper. "Moreover, today at noon there will be flashed from one end of the country to the other by telegraph and by wireless George Blagg's command to begin fighting. He has an immense secret army ready awaiting this word. Only a small proportion of the men are armed, but they intend to take their weapons from the soldiers and capture the states simultaneously from coast to coast."

"How do you know these things?" Kelvin demanded.

What little color there had been in Elsie's face left it suddenly. Even her lips were as white as paper. "I cannot tell you," she murmured faintly.

Kelvin nodded his head. He surmised that this vast conspiracy had Ben White as one of its weak arms.

"But hurry, Phillip, hurry!" pleaded Elsie, using his familiar name unconsciously. "If you find there what I have told you, you may know that all the rest is true."

"It is probably true enough," replied Phillip calmly. "Herbert, I had wished you to be here when I made my announcement, but you know what it is, as do the others of my cabinet, and what your share in it is to be. I shall excuse you for the time being. Wire at once to every military force under your command to be in readiness for this uprising."

One of the attendants opened the private door and let Herbert out. Kelvin stooped and opened every drawer of his desk on either side, but found nothing. He turned to Elsie with a slight smile, but she was on her knees now in front of the desk, with her ear applied to it.

"Search further," she insisted. "I hear something ticking."

Again Kelvin looked through the drawers and found nothing unusual. "Pull out the bottom one on this side and look underneath it," she directed, with now almost frantic insistence.

Kelvin did so. Under the right hand bottom drawer, in the six inches of inclosed space left beneath it and the floor, he found a wooden box. Applying his ear to it, he detected a faint ticking. He handed it to one of the negroes.

"Have this removed to some safe place at once," he ordered.

"Deed, no—not me!" protested the quaking voice of Peavey as he very gently slid the box on the desk and then sprang away from it. "Al's suttainly boum' an' 'termed to be planted in mah grave whole, Ah is!"

Sam, though a curious ashen gray with fear, picked up the box, but one of the big officers, a white man, took it quietly from his hands and went out the door with it.

Kelvin turned slowly to his cabinet. "Gentlemen," he began, "the United States is in a condition of absolute anarchy."

"Wait a minute," suddenly quavered the shrill voice of Henry Breed. "Wait a half hour, Phillip. I wouldn't believe Jens, and I didn't bring that robe along."

Jens looked at him with a curious smile. Breed had not been invited to this gathering. Jens had brought him perfume.

Phillip held up his hand for silence. "The country is in a state of absolute anarchy," he repeated. "It is necessary that a radical change in our entire social system be inaugurated at once to save us from riot, bloodshed and starvation." His eyes sought a typewritten sheet lying on the desk before him. "Now, therefore, I, the chief executive of the nation, issue the following proclamation: That all public utilities and private enterprises are hereby confiscated by the government for the benefit of the government and the people; that all present owners and managers of these enterprises shall remain in their present employments and conduct these enterprises for the government; that all factories, mills, stores and establishments of commerce of whatsoever nature which have ceased operation be immediately reopened and all seekers of employment be given work to the full capacity of these plants. The government will insure the payment of wages, will become responsible for all liabilities and become the holder of all assets. All holdings of cash and of stocks, bonds or other securities, except those reposing in banks, hereby become the property of the government. All banks, whether national or private, are hereby appointed and taken over as branches of the governmental treasury, and no money shall be paid out without official order. All factories, mills and enterprises of whatsoever nature, having started work at once, will issue, until further adjustment, time checks at the previous rates of employment, which time checks shall be taken in payment by all merchandise concerns, the same as legal tender, until the government shall have time for adjustment. Every able-bodied man in the United States between the ages of twenty and sixty is hereby ordered to return to his previous employment, or, if previously without employment, to apply at the nearest center of industry. Any able-bodied person, as described, found idle within one week after this proclamation, without valid excuse, shall be arrested and imprisoned. Any citizen found armed within twenty-four hours after this proclamation shall be shot for treason without trial.

"To all the foregoing I have heretofore set my hand and seal."

"PHILLIP KELVIN, Emperor."

TO HELL WITH PUBLIC OPINION, SAYS SOLON

Ohio Senator Gives Free Vent to Feelings.

Columbus, O., May 11.—On the floor of the senate detectives who brought about indictments of Ohio assemblymen on bribery charges were attacked by Senator L. R. Andrews, one of the three senators indicted. In a speech characterized by extreme rancor, he charged that the grand jury had acted as a result of investigation by paid thieves, spies, thugs and murderers. One of the detectives, he said, had been sent to a prison fifteen years ago and only averted another sentence by turning state's evidence.

Andrews declared that when he had heard of the grand jury's intended probe, he had offered to go before the grand jury, but the attorney general had refused to accept his evidence. "I knew," he said, "that if I told my story there would be no indictment, but they did not want to hear me."

Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Diegel, also under indictment, had been summoned to the grand jury and offered immunity if he would tell what he knew, but he had answered that he knew nothing, Andrews declared.

The senate's so-called whitewash committee organized by choosing Senator Todd of this city as chairman and Senator Foster of Hillsboro as secretary. The latter had been one of the participants in the bitter debate during which detectives, reporters and those behind the bribery probe were scored without stint. At the height of an impassioned speech, Foster cried out: "To hell with public opinion if you feel you have done right."

The cigarmakers of Tampa are again on a general strike.

JUREZ TAKEN BY MADERISTS

Insurrectos Now Control Important Port of Entry.

ORDER IS BEING PRESERVED

The First Act of the Victorious Rebels Was to Close Every Saloon in the Town and Place Guards to See That the Lid Is Kept on Tight—General Navarro to Be Exchanged For Important Rebel Leader.

El Paso, Tex., May 11.—His two principal commanders killed or wounded, deserted by his captains and afraid his men would go over to the insurrectos if given a chance to mingle with them, Gen. Juan J. Navarro yesterday afternoon surrendered the city of Juarez to the rebel army of Francisco I. Madero. With 480 of his men, he is held by the rebels. Navarro remained with his men to the last, and after many of his officers had quit and the command had been shot to pieces the old general retreated into the barracks on the southwestern edge of the city, where the rebel advance was fought off as long as possible.

The rebels took the city at 10 o'clock, but it was afternoon when Navarro surrendered with his command, and this was only done after five shells from a heavy cannon had struck the adobe building in which they had taken refuge.

Colonel M. Tamborel was killed in his own house during the Tuesday night. He was the commandant of the federal garrison and second in command of the city. Colonel Manuel Pueblita was wounded. Then the captains and minor officers began to desert. The soldiers followed this example and Navarro was forced to retire with his men in a body to keep them all from leaving him. From place to place the federalists moved, retiring slowly as the rebel fire drove them back, making their last stand in the barracks on the different buildings and their comrades began to pour in from all sides of the town.

Closed the Saloons.
General Navarro is to be exchanged for Eduardo Hay, one of the insurrecto board of strategy, now a prisoner in the state prison at Chihuahua.

Madero was asked if he would execute Navarro.

"Certainly not," he said. "Not a man will be shot. We will exchange them for our own men held prisoners by the federalists."

Asked what he thought of the fight, Madero said: "All I can say is 'Bueno!'"

"Shall I say that it is to be Mexico City for you?"

"Oh, we'll see," said Madero.

As soon as the insurrectos took the town, the officers made every possible effort to close the saloons and prevent the men drinking. A great deal of liquor was destroyed and guards were placed over all saloons. So far there is almost perfect order and a minimum of drunkenness. Juarez is designed to be the first prohibition town in Mexico. Abram Gonzales, provisional governor of Chihuahua, declares that Juarez saloons will be closed continuously until the insurrectos leave the city. Every other precaution is being taken to prevent disorder.

The killed and wounded are found in all sorts of out-of-the-way places in Juarez. Blood spots appear everywhere in the streets and on the sidewalks, and dead, dying and men wounded seriously and slightly are found at every turn. It is believed from careful estimates of Americans who have gone through the town very thoroughly, that the total dead will be fifty or seventy-five and the total wounded will not be over 300.

Captured Another Port.
Tucson, Ariz., May 11.—Bent upon driving the federal forces from the Altar district, a band of 150 rebels have captured Sasabe, a Mexican port of entry on the border, seventy miles northwest of Nogales, where the proposed Portola irrigation ditch crosses into Mexico.

Agua Prieta Also Taken.
Douglas, Ariz., May 11.—Rebel commanders who have been campaigning in Sonora state took charge of Agua Prieta last night and set up a temporary government. The federal forces had abandoned the place.

MEXICO SEES SIGNS OF AN EARLY PEACE

Fall of Juarez May Mean Diaz's Resignation.

Mexico City, May 11.—It is considered here by well informed persons and seems the general opinion of the public, that Navarro's surrender clears the situation and peace is bound to follow immediately.

As the rebels make the condition of peace the resignation of President Diaz, it follows that this will be announced shortly.

The minister of war was interviewed regarding the report that the government would attempt to retake Juarez. He stated that General Rago is marching from Chihuahua and other troops have been ordered there, but he was unwilling to state definitely if an attack would be made.

Nothing definite has been learned concerning expected peace in the state of Guerrero, but reports that Figueroa is about to attack Cuernavaca and then march toward Mexico City are officially denied. It is known that the rebels who control Guerrero are not making further efforts. The trains are running to Cuernavaca, but no further toward Iguala, as the bridges are down near Cajones.

Last reports from other points in the republic indicate that the rebels are extremely active. It is feared that Durango, Torreon, Tuxpan and other important cities, if not already occupied by the rebels, are in imminent danger. A report from Saltillo, the capital of the state of Coahuila, stated that the town is surrounded by rebels, who are attacking furiously. As the rebels outnumber the garrison of the town five to one, surrender is expected. Saltillo is on the line of the National railroad to Laredo.

CARRIED OUT THREAT

Despondent Philadelphian Bent on Suicide, Doesn't Go Alone.

Philadelphia, May 11.—Five people drank beer in which there was cyanide of potassium, at 2333 Ralston street. The dead are John Shinn, fifty-six years old, photographer; Mrs. Ida Arbuckle, fifty-one years old, widow, who lived at the Shinn home; Earl Burr, fifty years old, photographer. The other two will recover.

Mrs. Shinn said her husband had been despondent for some time because he had been out of work, and had threatened to commit suicide and "take all of you with me."

Grave anxiety is expressed at Rome over the condition of the pope. It is said that he displays symptoms of senile decay, such as arterial degeneration of the most pronounced type, a feeble heart and rapidly failing powers of resistance.

A FINE POINT IN MADERO'S FAVOR

He Now for the First Time Has An Open Port.

MEANS MUCH TO HIS CAUSE

Juarez Can Now Be Used as a Base of Operations For Shipment of War Supplies Without Interference From This Country, a Point of Great Importance to the Struggling Revolutionists.

Washington, May 11.—During the occupation of Juarez by the insurrectos the custom house at El Paso, Tex., will be kept open regularly. This decision by the treasury department is of great importance to the revolutionists. It assures the Madero forces an open port of entry on the border as a base of operations into which they can ship from the United States war supplies without interference from this country.

The United States under the neutrality laws has no right to interfere with bona fide shipments of arms or ammunition into Mexico. It is only when an attempt is made to smuggle war supplies across the border or when they are carried by an "expedition" that the United States government can seize them. Recently the judge advocate general of the army decided that three armed men constituted an "expedition."

While the United States has made no attempt to interrupt legitimate shipments of arms into Mexico, the rebels have been obliged to resort to filibustering expeditions for their munitions, because up to this time the custom houses on the Mexican side have all been held by the Mexican federal government. Consignments of arms and ammunition to the rebels, when cleared by the American custom houses, were promptly seized on the other side by the Diaz officers and confiscated.

This lack of a port of entry has been one of the most serious handicaps that the insurrectos have had. It explains why they centered their efforts first on Agua Prieta and later on Juarez. With the latter port of entry in their possession, however, the situation has cleared for them. The Madero army now for the first time has an open door to American manufactures.

HE'S HAD ENOUGH

President Estrada of Nicaragua Resigns and Flees.

Colon, May 11.—Juan J. Estrada, president of Nicaragua, has resigned the presidency and rumors say is a fugitive vainly seeking to escape from his own country. The proclamation announcing the governmental change was issued at Granada, capital of the department of Granada. Vice President Adolfo Diaz was designated by Estrada as his successor. The resignation came as a result of the clash with General Luis Mena, minister of war in the Estrada cabinet. The trouble has been brewing for months.

It is said President Estrada tried to embark upon a steamer at Corinto. He is quoted as saying that the United States most certainly would not be his destination. General Moncada, minister of the interior, accompanied his chief. Wires to Managua are said to have been cut. Whether or not a revolution is impending can only be guessed. Opinion here was that the change of government would be peaceful.

MOTHER'S DISCOVERY

Lingerie in Son's Room Revealed Secret of Elopement.

Hammond, Ind., May 11.—Taken to task by his mother, Mrs. J. M. Vansickle, after she had found feminine wearing apparel in his room, Charles Vansickle, former champion motorcyclist, and now proprietor of a theater in Hammond, admitted eloping with Miss Louise Sieldert, cashier in his theater. Young Vansickle met the girl in Chicago and hurried to Crown Point with her, where they were married.

Hoffstot Jury Disagreed.

Pittsburg, May 11.—The jury which tried Banker Frank N. Hoffstot, president of the Pressed Steel Car company, on a charge of conspiracy growing out of the councilmanic graft exposure, was discharged by Judge Haymaker after being out twenty-four hours and thirty minutes without agreeing on a verdict.

Parade Will Not Be Long.

Richmond, Ind., May 11.—The line of march for the parade of civil war veterans next week at the state encampment of the Grand Army will be less than one and one-half miles. The short march has been arranged to prevent the veterans from tiring, and it is expected that the number in line will be large.

Army Aviator's Fatal Fall.

San Antonio, Tex., May 11.—Second Lieutenant George M. E. Kelly, Thirtieth infantry, U. S. A., was killed when making an aeroplane flight here. His plane fell fifty feet and Kelly, thrown from the machine, landed on his head.

ENTRIES MADE TO TRACK MEET

Rushville Will be Represented at Triangular Contest, Saturday
by Nine Men.

CHANCES LOOK PRETTY GOOD

Connersville Expects to Entertain a Large Crowd and Number From Here Will Accompany Team.

The high school track and field team will leave Saturday morning for Connersville, where they will participate in a triangular meet. The contest will be held in Roberts Park and the first event will start promptly at 1:30 o'clock. Prof. Smelser, while not very optimistic as to Rushville's chances of winning the meet, is certain the team will make a good showing. The points will be awarded for first, second and third place. Five for first, three for second and one for third.

Joe Barelay of Indiana University will be referee and Mr. Brunson of Earlham will act as official starters.
In the tryouts held this week several of the locals have shown up strong.
Roam has done better than nine feet in the pole vault and should prove a hard man to beat. Todd and Petry have been doing both the high and low hurdles in great form. Rushville will not enter a relay team.

Two representatives of the high school will meet two from Connersville in a tennis contest. McClanahan will represent Rushville in the single and McClanahan and Frazee in the doubles. The contest will take place in the morning.

A number of rooters from here will accompany the team and expect to aid in victory. The individual winners will be presented with medals and ribbons and the high school winning the contest will receive the cup offered by Connersville.

Coach Smelser has named the following entries from the local school:
220 Yard Low Hurdles—(trial heats) Todd, Petry, Shanahan,
High Jump—Todd
Shot Put—Todd, Petry and Alexander.

WILL NOT MOVE SALOON

Clyde Miller Wants Advantage of the Length of Room Now Occupied.

An error was made in stating that Clyde Miller would request that the commissioners allow him to move his saloon from the east room to the west room of the lower floor of the Grand hotel. The request will be made merely to get the advantage of the full length of the room in which the saloon is now located as the license application allows only fifty feet.
That necessitates the boarding up of the room and did not allow a back door as it would lead to another room. The room is 87 feet and seven inches long and Mr. Miller hopes to have the use of the whole room for his saloon. No move will be made.

Pay Telephone Toll.

Don't overlook to pay your telephone toll before May 12 if you wish to avoid paying 15 cents extra for collection. No notice will be given
